

Winter Is Coming

Lyrics by Morva Bowman, TTO The Huron Carol (Capo 5)

Am G Am
'Twas from the halls of Winterfell Lord Eddard held his land
Till Robert King rode north demanding Ned should be his Hand
C G
So Stark rode south in Robert's train,
Am G
Kings Landing bound with daughters twain...
Am Em Am Em Am
Winter is coming, Lords. Winter will come.
Am Em Am
And the North remembers still.

Midst plots and treachery Lord Eddard strove to do the right
Protect the throne and find the truth, bring hidden acts to light.
For Lannisters this honest man a threat will be - his doom they plan...

Winter is coming, Lords. Winter will come.
And the North remembers still.

King Robert dead by poison; Ned betrayed into a cell.
And Sansa Stark a hostage held, her father's truth to quell.
Eluding capture Arya flies, she will not be Queen Cersei's prize...

Winter is coming, Lords. Winter will come.
And the North remembers still.

Lord Eddard's head upon a pike; the North is flames arose
Demanding justice, vengeance for the crimes of ancient foes.
As Cersei's secret now is known, both Robert's brothers seek the throne.

Winter is coming, Lords. Winter will come.
And the North remembers still.

Across the sea Danaerys hatches dragons born in flame.
While on the Wall the Night's Watch sees a threat they cannot name.
In fire and blood five kings will fight to claim the Iron Throne by might.

Winter is coming, Lords. Winter will come.
And the North remembers still.
